The Greedy Pig

Once upon a time, a pig lived in a farm. A sheep also lived in a farm. It was a doctor, and it cured sickness of animals in the farm.

The pig was greedy. It always took candies from the candy jar when the farmer was not looking. It was because the pig ate too many candies, it had tooth decay a month later. He went to see Doctor Sheep.

"Doctor Sheep, can you help me? I have tooth decay," said the pig. "Why do you have tooth decay?" asked the Doctor. "Um... because I have eaten... a lot of... candies," the pig answered embarrassed. "I will help you this time," said the Doctor, "but next time I won't help you. You mustn't be greedy and eat a lot of candies!"

This fable tells us not to be greedy.
